By public transport -

From Dublin Airport

The Aircoach service to/from Dublin Airport serves the university. Coming from Dublin Airport the coach stops on the N11 slip road in front of the Montrose Hotel (currently closed for renovation). On the return journey to Dublin Airport the coach stops at the main entrance to the university on the N11 slip road.

Aircoach fares:           Single journey €8.00

                                  Return journey €14.00

See <http://www.aircoach.ie>

From the city centre

Public transport links from the city centre are good and this is the easiest way to reach the campus.

The number 10 route of Dublin Bus terminates within the campus near the Quinn Business School (no. 44/grid ref. D9). This is the easiest and most convenient bus route to take because it will leave you within the campus.

The 46A, 46B, 46C, 46D routes, as well as the 145 route all pass along the Stillorgan Road (N 11). If you take any of these buses you should get off at the Montrose Hotel stop on the N11 slip road and cross the main road to the principal entrance of UCD.

The number 11B route terminates on campus, near the Clonskeagh entrance, but it is NOT advisable to take this bus from the city centre because its UCD terminus is a long distance from the UCD Humanities Institute of Ireland.

The routes 10, 46 and 145 all pass through the city centre from north to south, via Parnell Square, O'Connell Street, D'Olier Street, Trinity College, Nassau Street and Kildare Street.

See <http://www.dublinbus.ie/en/Your-Journey1/City-Centre-Bus-Stops/>

The adult bus fare to UCD from the city centre is €1.80 (Have exact amount. No change given).

Traffic barriers are in operation to prevent through cross-city traffic. These barriers are in place Monday to Friday from 7.00am to 10.30am and 4.00pm to 7.30pm.

The directions for drivers are based on the assumption that you will arrive when the barriers are in place.
